Dear parents/carers,

World Book Day is on the 6th March 2025. We would love to celebrate the day by promoting reading and sharing our love of books at Holland.

We invite the children to come either dressed as their favourite book character or in their comfy pyjamas so we can enjoy an exciting day of promoting reading together.

We will have various activities throughout the day and also some quizzes and activities for the children to enter before the day with prizes for the winners.

- 1) Where is your favourite place to read? Do you read in unusual places? In a treehouse? In the dog's bed? On a swing? Send in photos of you reading in the strangest place you can think of! The weirder the better! The strangest place will win a prize!
- 2) Masked Reader competition. The staff at Holland have been reading a Revolting Rhymes story for you to enjoy. The only trouble is, we are all wearing masks and may have funny voices! Can you guess who the member of staff is?
- 3) Book swap – Do you have any good condition books that you no longer want for readers aged between 6-12? Children can bring in any unwanted books and choose another book for free to take home at lunchtime. If you have any spare books please send them in for us to create our own free book shop!

We will also be working together as a school on the wordless picture book Journey by Aaron Becker. Each year group will be doing different activities related to the book which we will share after the event.

We hope the children will have an amazing day and enjoy celebrating the wonderful world of books.

Kind regards,

Karen Bistram
