Thursday 2nd July - Holly Class

Isle of Wight, Heatwaves and Next Week

It is safe to say it has been a very unusual week for Holland Junior School. First of all most of our Year 6 pupils have been away at the Isle of Wight for the week! They all had a wonderful time filled with lots of great memories and should all sleep very well tonight (especially the teachers.) Well done to all of you for such outstanding behaviour while on the trip, conquering fears and doing the school proud! Photos of the trip to be made available to parents next week!

As for the rest of us, it has been rather warm with big changes to the school day, even down to lunch changes and early finishes! Once again everyone has done the school proud, coping so well with everything and behaving so well. A huge thank you to everyone for their hard work getting through this week!

Next week will hopefully be a step back to normality! Normal uniform is to be worn and school will finish at normal time again. Please see below for next week's lunch options. Children will be asked for their choices each morning.

Tuesday will be our Transition afternoon where all the children will be going into their new classes and meeting their new teacher. It is hard to believe we are preparing for next year already!
